

Fairfield Technologies Inc. Opens New Office in Frederick, Maryland

Frederick, MD – October 1, 2010 – Fairfield Technologies Inc. (FTI) announces the establishment of its new Maryland office located in downtown Frederick, Maryland. The new facility will serve as FTI's principal office, housing its corporate records repository and program management offices, with additional office and meeting space for project personnel located in the Maryland, Washington, DC, Virginia, and greater National Capital commuting region.

The new office provides services to FTI personnel supporting Fort Detrick and other facilities located in Maryland. Fort Detrick is a premier quad-services installation committed to excellence, and is home to multiple command units and functions, in addition to National Cancer Institute research facilities.
