

Fairfield Technologies Inc. Sponsors ‘Operation Helping Hands’ Breakfast for Walter Reed

Chantilly, VA- February 8, 2008 --Fairfield Technologies Inc. (FTI) today sponsored a breakfast fundraiser at Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington, DC, to benefit Operation Helping Hands, a support and assistance organization for families of active duty wounded and injured military personnel. Over $1,000 was raised for the families of veterans returning from theaters in Iraq and Afghanistan for medical treatment.

“It is with humility and great appreciation that we make this donation of time and resources to assist the families of our brave men and women wounded in Iraq and Afghanistan,” said Kenneth Fried, FTI president. “FTI management and staff are grateful to our service personnel for their dedication and sacrifice for our freedoms.”

For more information on Operation Helping Hands at Walter Reed Army Medical Center please visit <http://www.wramc.army.mil/Support/chaplain/Pages/donations.aspx>.

#

For twenty years, Fairfield Technologies Inc. (FTI), a CMMI Level 3 company, has provided thought leadership in Information Technology, Business Process Reengineering, and Program Management to our Federal and commercial customers in four main markets: Defense, Intelligence, and Homeland Security; Space, Weather, and Environmental Systems; Healthcare IT, and; Financial Services. With our strong “Customer-Focused, Results-Drivensm” culture, FTI uses client mission knowledge and expertise, outstanding personnel, industry-leading methodologies and “best practices”, and advanced technology to deliver system development, modernization and performance improvement projects to our customers, at or below budget and on or ahead of schedule.

For more information about Fairfield Technologies, our capabilities, customers, business partners, and contracting vehicles, please visit our corporate web site at www.fairfieldtech.com.